

KANSAS AIR NATIONAL GUARD

184th Intelligence Wing
52960 Jayhawk Dr.
McConnell AFB, KS 67221

How can we serve you?

The 184th Intelligence Wing is always looking for ways to support the local community. As part of its ongoing outreach efforts, the unit offers the following support programs.

Social Media Pros and Cons Presentation

In this 30-minute presentation, we cover social media in a way that's applicable to business and personal environments. Understand the benefits, as well as the security risks involved in launching social media platforms.

Information Technology & Security Based Classes

The 184th IW is a cyber-based military unit that employs a wide spectrum of experienced IT and cyber-security professionals. Let us build a class tailored to your needs.

ASVAB Interpretation / Find Your Interest

This program will help students find a civilian career based on the Armed Services Vocational Aptitude Battery, as well as the online Find Your Interest program. Combining the results of both tests will help students find a career that matches their aptitude and their interests. The ASVAB must be completed prior to our assistance.

Contact Senior Master Sgt. Doug Reed
Outreach Coordinator, 184th Intelligence Wing
316-258-9116

4 Lenses Training

Learn how to interact with different temperaments based on the Meyers-Briggs personality inventory and training. This class is recommended for high school juniors, seniors and staff members. Although the 184th IW can facilitate the class, the requesting school must provide testing material found at Shipley.com. Thirty people are required; class length is approximately three hours.

Community Based Projects

Many members of the 184th IW hold full-time jobs in the construction industry. Others just want to help where they can whether its building playgrounds, community clean-up efforts or delivering food to shelters. Air Guardsmen are committed to service and adhere to strict safety practices. Stipulations apply and not all projects will be selected.

Career Fairs

The recruiters assigned to the 184th IW attend career fairs throughout the year. Please contact us if your school or business is hosting a career fair.

Honor Guard Events

The 184th IW's Honor Guard provides various ceremonial flag presentations for community events including sports games, civic celebrations and holiday observances.